

WORLD HEALTH DAY 2021 THEME : BUILDING A FAIRER, HEALTHIER WORLD

The strategic importance of good health is celebrated each year on this day on 7th April. On this very day Physical, Mental, Emotional and Social well being of all is promoted and celebrated all over the World.

World Health Organization (WHO), an agency of the United Nations, spearheads all the programmes and policies related to health needs of every one. COVID-19 has hit hard all countries, but its impact has been harshest on those communities which are already vulnerable and have less access to quality health care services.

It has highlighted that sanitary & affordable homes with running water, clean energy & enough space are form of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and frontline defence against health impacts of Pandemics.

We emphasize the role that affordable, climate-smart and commercially viable homes can help in improving the health outcomes of people living on low incomes. A post-pandemic response that embraces affordable housing will enable billions of people to escape the poverty cycle. This is truly an opportunity to build back better.

The intelligence community has been assigned the task to dive deep into the origin of Corona Virus including examination of the theory that it was accidentally leaked from Chinese Laboratory, the prevailing view that it was transmitted from animals to humans outside the laboratory, mysterious disease of diplomats & intelligence officers called 'HAVANA SYNDROME' (Symptoms : dizziness, amnesia, fatigue). Focus is on to find out the plausible causes, helping develop devices that could better protect the personnel from Corona Virus. Benefits of Vaccination are overwhelmingly greater than the small risk of harm. Over 50% of adverse events following immunization (AEFI) are due to anxiety and have been found to be more among women. Caregivers need to be patient with children and understand their emotions as there is no approved vaccine for COVID-19 for the children at this point of time.

It is an urge to ensure that everyone has secure and healthy environment that enables them to live healthy, wealthy & prosperous life and everyone has access to quality health services everywhere without risk of financial hardship. Efforts be made to monitor progress to reduce health inequalities locally, regionally and nationally.

In the line of command of WHO, we are committed to ensure that everyone, everywhere realize their dream of achieving and maintaining good health. All of us are responsible and accountable to take action which is appropriate to patients' care needs and expectations of Health Service Organization.

Today, WHO has made a clarion call to all of us to join a new campaign to build bridges to ensure a fairer, healthier world which shall kick start economies & act as engine of job creation for better standard of living.

Everyone can lend a hand in improving the overall health of the world, just by starting with yourself, your family, and your community.

“Together, let's make the world a better place to live in harmony and grow.”
